ANTI-VIOLENCE TEEN AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

The Teen Ambassador Program is a collaborative, youth-led effort presented by Crime Victim Services for students in middle and high school. The members of TAP will actively serve as ambassadors of safety, wellness, health, and anti-violence in their community. These students will work to end teen dating violence, promote healthy relationships among their peers, and learn valuable prevention strategies and skills related to issues affecting youth presently.

MEETINGS

Meetings will take place once a month after school at the Crime Victim Services CASA office. At these meetings, members will learn about violence prevention as well as other related topics. TAP members will then identify areas of focus and plan activities and events to implement in the remaining months. Examples may be a social media campaign during Teen Dating Violence Awareness walk or a dress up week at school.
